FLOWER ELECTED

The Empire State Gives Him a Safe Majority.

SHEEHAN IS ALSO ELECTED

New York County Democratic by 60,244 Majority.

McKinley Elected in Ohio by 15,000 Majority—Flower Goes to the Harlem Bridge With a Majority of 72,187. Democratic Gains Shown in Many of the Counties Throughout the State. Sheehan Runs Behind His Ticket in Buffalo But Makes a Very Even Race in Other Localities—The Entire Democratic State Ticket Elected by Upwards of 20,000 Majority—Russell Re-Elected Governor in Massachusetts on the Democratic Ticket—A Reasonably Large Vote Polled—Names of the Assemblymen and Senators Elected in New York—Result of the Elections in the Various States.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—The returns indicate the election of the entire Democratic state ticket by more than 20,000 majority. Sheehan appears to have run even with his ticket in every section of the state with the exception of Buffalo city. He is undoubtedly elected.

TAMMANY ON TOP.

It Elects All the Candidates for the Senate But One.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Tammany Hall is on top. It has elected all its candidates for the senate with the exception of General McMahon, who was defeated by Lispenard Stewart in the Eighth senatorial district. In the assembly also the Tammany Democracy carried every assembly district with the sole exception of the Seventh.

Both congressional districts have been carried by the Democrats. Little being elected to succeed Governor-elect Flower in the Twelfth and Cochran being returned from the Tenth. The board of aldermen will be a Tammany board by an overwhelming majority, and the elected members of the judiciary are all nominees of the same organization.

ROSWELL P. FLOWER.

A BIG MAJORITY.

Flower has polled in this city a majority of over 58,000, and it is expected that his plurality in the state will be about [illegible]. Sheehan ran behind a little over 3,000 in this city, but elsewhere he has polled a vote even with the rest of his ticket. And yet this result was by no means certain early in the evening. It has been an unusually exciting election. At first indications seemed to point to Fassett's election, and as late as 9 o'clock the question of the successful candidate for governor was in doubt. It seemed then that Flower could not possibly carry this city by more than 50,000 majority, but as later returns from Tammany districts came in, showing great gains, those figures crept slowly but surely up to 58,000 and over.

LOTS OF EXCITEMENT.

The most intense excitement prevailed in the neighborhood of the newspaper offices, where large crowds gathered to read the returns from the bulletin boards. The Republicans had the best of it at first, and they cheered for all they were worth, the Democrats maintaining a grim silence. Then as the returns showed a consistent gain for Flower the triumphant cheers of the enthusiastic Democrats arose to the skies. The majority given to Flower in this city, 58,000, is much less than a natural Democratic majority of the metropolis. The falling off is attributed to the action of the County Democracy in resenting the exclusion of their delegates from the Saratoga convention.

RECEIVES THE RETURNS.

General Sickles Denounces the County Democracy.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Mr. Flower received the election returns at the Windsor hotel, surrounded by his two brothers, John and Anderson, and his nephew, Fred S. Flower, Joseph J. O'Donohue, Joseph J. Little, Bridge Commissioner Abe Schwab, General Dan Sickles and other prominent Democrats. The first returns of the evening cast a decided gloom over the party, and Mr. Flower was in a very unhappy state of mind. General Sickles openly denounced the county Democrats as traitors, and said he had some of this treason in his own district. As the returns kept coming Mr. Flower's spirits rose, and at the home above mentioned he estimated his majority below the Harlem at 73,000, of which 57,000 was from New York and 16,000 from Kings county.

SAYS HE WAS SURPRISED.

He said he was greatly surprised at the falling off in this city. A reporter asked him whether he attributed it to the County Democracy. He shook his head gravely and said nobody could tell. He allowed 60,000 as a high water mark for Fassett's majority above the bridge but did not think it would approach that figure by 8,000. Private dispatches were received from the leaders in counties outside of New York giving indications and nearly every one showed Democratic gains.

A messenger came in at 10 o'clock who reported that the betting was $500 to $400 on Flower. Mr Flower was much pleased, while Mr. O'Donohue jumped up and commissioned a young man to go out and get all he could at that odds. Then another report came in that the search lights at Madison Square Garden pointed to Flower's election.

Governor Hill Happy.

ALBANY, Nov. 4.—Governor Hill said this morning: "The result is extremely gratifying and the more so because all of our big gains were either in the country or else in districts where there was alleged disaffection, such as Brooklyn and Erie counties. It is a vindication of the party and party principles. The stuffed tiger was not "in it" in the county as was evinced by the increased results in my own city of Elmira. The result also in the senate and assembly districts is all we expected. It is a night and a time for general rejoicing."

When the result this morning was announced definitely, the governor said: "It should be considered as a great Democratic victory, presaging Democratic success in the nation next year. The crushing defeat which Mr. Fassett received in his own city of Elmira and in his county of Chemung is particularly significant of the people's dislike for his methods of campaigning and I am especially proud that my own county recorded its preference for Mr. Flower so emphatically."

Plurality for Flower, 19,377.

NEW YORK STATE.

BUFFALO, Nov. 4.—Returns from city and county districts are very incomplete and only an estimate can be made tonight. The change in wards and districts makes comparison impossible. The best estimate of Erie county gives Flower about 1,000. Sheehan runs about 2,500 behind. For senator John Laughlin, rep., is probably re-elected, but by a small majority. For the assembly J. J. Clahan, dem., First district; Jacob Goldberg, dem., Second district; Edward Gallagher, rep., Third district, and H. H. Guenther, dem., Fourth district are elected. The Fifth is doubtful but the returns indicate the election of Myron H. Clark, rep., a Republican gain.

ALBANY, Nov. 4.—Albany county gives Flower over 4,000 majority. The rest of the ticket receives about the same except Rosendale for attorney general, who runs 300 ahead. Herrick for supreme court has 1,500 majority. The Democratic county ticket is elected, and three out of four assemblymen.

Rensselaer county complete gives Flower 87 majority; Sheehan 40 majority; Rosendale 42 majority; Herrick, supreme judge, 41 majority; Parker, senator, 42 majority. Assemblymen elected: Ninth district, Edward Hagen, Fifth district, W. L. Brown; Sixth, J. F. Ahern.

JAMESTOWN, Nov. 4.—Chautauqua county gives Hassett 4,400 plurality. Dr. J. T. Edwards, dem. and ind., is elected senator over C. P. Vedder in the Thirty-second district comprising Chautauqua and Cattaraugus counties. For assembly, W. C. Gifford and E. E. Woodbury, reps., are elected in the First and Second districts.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Mr. Flower's majority below the Harlem river, that is, including New York, King's, Queen's and Richmond counties, is about 72,000. Present indications based on reports from the state show that Mr. Fassett's majority in the 55 counties will not be above 54,000.

MIDDLETOWN, Nov. 4.—Orange county, estimated, gives Fassett 250 plurality. Indications point to Lamont's election for senator in the Thirteenth district. McCormick is elected to the assembly in the Second Orange district and Beakes in Sullivan.

WARSAW, Nov. 4.—Wyoming county gives Fassett 672 plurality. Van Gorder, rep., for senator, 540 plurality. Van Gorder is elected in the Thirtieth district. Milo Olin, rep., is elected assemblyman from this county.

OLEAN, N. Y., Nov. 4.—Cattaraugus county gives Fassett 1,500 plurality and about the same for Edwards for senator. W. E. Wheeler, rep., and S. S. Laing, dem., are elected in the First and Second assembly districts.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Madison county gives Fassett 2,000 majority, Yates county gives Fassett 1,000 majority; Cortland county gives Fassett 1,400 majority; Wayne county gives Fassett 1,750 majority.

LOCKPORT, Nov. 4.—Niagara county has given Flower 600 majority.

Lockport gives Flower 1,556, Fassett 1,485; Flower's majority 71.

SCHENECTADY, Nov. 4.—Schenectady gives Flower [illegible] plurality. Quackenbush re-elected to the assembly.

MEDINA, N. Y., Nov. 4.—Orleans county gives Fassett 550 plurality. Parsons, rep., for senator is elected in the Twenty-ninth district. Adelbert McCormick, rep., is elected to the assembly from this county.

ALBANY, Nov. 4.—Fassett's majority in Poughkeepsie is only 75, smallest ever given to any Republican state ticket. Democratic gain over 1888 of 300. Osborne, dem., for senator, carries Poughkeepsie.

SYRACUSE, Nov. 4.—Syracuse complete gives Fassett 9,382, Flower 8,915. Fassett's majority 370. Vrooman 9,111, Sheehan, 8,833; Vrooman's majority 258. Miller in 1888 had 2,343 majority.

OGDENSBURG, Nov. 4.—Erwin, rep., for senate and Malby, rep., for assembly in First district, Keeler, rep., Second district, and Lang, rep., Third district, are elected to the assembly.

WHITEHALL, Nov. 4.—Essex county complete gives Fassett 3,546, Flower 2,324; a Republican plurality of 1,222. The county complete gave for governor a Republican plurality of 2,010 in 1888.

COOPERSTOWN, Nov. 4.—In Otsego county W. L. Brown, rep., Second district, Charles Goodell, First district for assembly are elected.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—This city complete

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Sheehan ran behind Flower in this city 2,916; Vrooman ran ahead of Fassett in city 1,034.

NEWBURG, Nov. 4.—Middletown complete gives Fassett 19 majority.

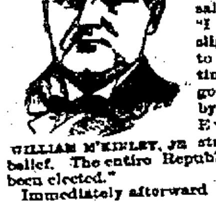
Returns at 2 a. m. show that the New York senate will stand 17 Republican to 15 Democratic. The assembly 64 Republican to 64 Democratic. The Republicans have 2 majority on the joint ballot.

IN OHIO.

McKinley Elected by a Good Round Majority.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 4.—Chairman Hahn was present at the Republican headquarters during the entire evening last evening and had his clerk hard at work figuring up on every return that came in. He said to a reporter: "I have not the slightest reason to change my estimate of Ohio going Republican by at least 19,000. Every return strengthens my belief. The entire Republican ticket has been elected."



WILLIAM M'KINLEY, JR.

Immediately afterward the Democratic committee rooms were visited. Chairman Now said: "Everything is lost. McKinley will carry the state by at least 15,000. Anything above that you can use your own figures, for we are snowed under."

"How about the legislature?" was asked.

"Well, they take that too, but I cannot tell by what majority. This is the first news given out at Democratic headquarters, but it has been noticed that no high degree of animation has been felt there all evening since the first returns were made. Hilarity reigns supreme in all Republican houses.

IN MASSACHUSSETTS.

Russell Re-Elected Governor on the Democratic Ticket.

BOSTON, Nov. 4.—An entire State ticket was ballotted for at the election in Massachusetts yesterday. The offices to be filled were those of Governor, Lieut.-Governor, Secretary, Treasurer and Attorney-General. There were five tickets in the field, the Republican, Democratic, Prohibition, People's party and Socialist-ic Labor. The main fight centred on the gubernatorial vote, and was between William E. Russell, the present Democratic incumbent, and Charles H. Allen, Republican. Other candidates for Governor were Charles Kimball, Prohibitionist; Henry Winn, People's party, and W. H. Robinson, Socialistic. For the other offices the candidates for Lieut.-Governor, William Haile, Republican, were renominated.

Massachusetts has 313 towns and 32 cities. Owing to new law requiring votes to be counted twice before announced returns will come slower than in previous years about coming in.

Russell, the Democratic candidate for Governor, re-elected by a small majority.

IOWA.

DES MOINES, Nov. 4.—The re-election of Governor Boies by the Democrats of Iowa is practically conceded on all hands. The Democratic committee places his plurality at 10,000, and that of the state ticket 8,000 less.

Chairman Mack of the Republican committee said the reports so far received were unsatisfactory, and he hoped later ones would favor the Republicans. At any rate he said the plurality would be all either way.

MARYLAND.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 4, 1 A. M.—Brown for governor and entire Democratic state ticket elected by about 30,000; Senate, dems., 19; rep., 7. The house will be Democratic by not less than 80 majority. Fifty-four out of 198 election districts in Baltimore give Latrobe for mayor, sixth term, 9,846; Warfield, 6,138. Latrobe and entire regular Democratic city ticket will have about 5,000.

VIRGINIA.

RICHMOND, Nov. 4.—Returns point to a gain of two senators and six members of the house. The Republicans elect a member of the house in Floyd county by 400 majority, a Republican loss of 200.

NEW JERSEY.

NEWARK, Nov. 4.—New Jersey complete shows the following results: Senate—Republicans, 5; Democrats, 16. Assembly—Republicans, 21; Democrats, 41. On joint ballot, Republicans, 26; Democrats, 56.

A Mine Disaster.

BUTTE, Mont., Nov. 4.—It was reported late last night that a cage carrying eighteen men fell in the Anaconda mine from the 400 to the 900-foot level and killed seventeen men. On account of the distance of the mine from the center of the city the names of the killed cannot be learned at this writing.

Floating in the Bay.

PORT TOWNSEND, Wash., Nov. 4.—The body of Colonel William Hakes, a well-known contractor, was found floating in the bay here. It is not known whether he was murdered or accidentally fell in. Colonel Hakes was one of the 306 who voted for Grant at the Chicago convention in 1880.

A Great Divine Dead.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Mgr. Preston, who has been ill for several weeks, expired at a late hour last night.

A SAD CASE OF SUICIDE.

A Young Man Takes His Own Life at East Orange, N. J.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—A young man apparently about 20 years of age, committed suicide on Clinton street, near South Orange avenue, East Orange, N. J. He shot himself in the right temple with a 32-calibre revolver and died in fifteen minutes.

The suicide was very deliberate. It was witnessed by a small boy who happened to be on the street at the time. The young man, who wore a neat suit of black, a tennis shirt and a four-in-hand tie, walked into Clinton street from South Orange avenue and stopped upon a small bridge which crosses the street.

He drew his revolver and fired a shot at a body of sparrows. Then he tested his aim upon a strip of paper which lay in the gutter. Apparently well satisfied with his practice, he deliberately placed the revolver to his temple and fired. He fell to the sidewalk bleeding profusely.

Among the first to reach the spot was Superintendent Haley of the Orange poor farm. The young man was rolling over on the sidewalk, his face and clothes becoming smeared with his blood.

Mr. Haley wanted to remove him, but a couple of deputy sheriffs from Vailsburg refused to permit him to touch the dying youth. In a few minutes life was extinct. The East Orange and Newark police were notified, but they also refused to move the body until the county physician could view it.

Jumped from a Train.

BURLINGTON, Ia., Nov. 4.—James S. Clafue, a stock raiser of Greeley, Colo., walked into a police station here hatless, coatless and generally bruised up, and told a remarkable story. He said he had left home to visit friends in Galva, Ills., and taken a sleeper at Denver. The last thing he remembers was retiring to his berth. He next found himself lying in a ditch at the side of the track not far from Burlington, badly bruised and half frozen. He walked to the police station from there. His theory was that he had jumped from the train while asleep and while it was running at full speed. An investigation by the railroad authorities proves the truth of the man's assertion. He is now at the hospital quite ill from his terrible experience.

Strangled to Death.

WEBSTER, Mass., Nov. 4.—Harry Jones, an unmarried operator in the West Dudley paper mill, was found strangled in the cellar of the mill. He went to the cellar to turn water into a water chest and a large silver chain which he wore about his neck caught a nut in the shaft, which drew the unfortunate man to his death. When found he was on his knees, the shaft was stopped and he was black in the face.

Blew Her Brains Out.

JASPER, Tenn., Nov. 4.—Mrs. Davis, wife of one of the convict guards at Inman, where is located one of the largest convict camps in the state, committed suicide Monday. She blew her brains out with a shotgun. She left a note to her husband saying she had rather be dead than living with him. There is some mystery about the matter. It is believed the inhumanity of convict labor bore heavily on her mind.

Carter Harrison's Purchase.

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—Hon. Carter B. Harrison has purchased and assumed control of the Chicago Times. The price is not made public but it is understood that the check with which the property was paid for represented a sum well up in the six figures. Mr. Harrison says the paper will be Democratic in all things, with no friends to favor or enemies to punish.

A Strange Disease.

PLAINFIELD, Conn., Nov. 4.—Many hundreds of people in this state and in Rhode Island are suffering from an affection of the throat and lungs resembling the grip. Several cases have ended in fatal attacks of pneumonia and typhoid fever.

GOOD HEALTH

THE HANDS.

The Attributes of a Beautiful Hand and How to Secure Them.

The chief attributes of a beautiful hand as sung by bards and written of by novelists in the description of their heroines, seem to be whiteness, smallness or shapeliness. The first and last of these qualifications can be acquired, although Dame Nature may have withheld the fairylike proportion so much admired.

Roughness, hardness and redness are often attributed to the male hand by writers. In "Paradise Lost" there is an allusion to "his red right hand." Climate also has a great deal to do with the color and texture of the skin. It may often be noticed what white, slim hands are possessed by American and Anglo-Indian ladies. The enforced idleness induced by tropical heat, or other causes pertaining to modes of life and climate, certainly do produce these white, slender hands.

A great many whitening applications are on the market, some being highly lauded. Before, however, purchasing any unguents, we would advise ladies to borrow some of their fathers' or brothers' evening gloves. For a month or six weeks these gloves should be worn in bed. Apply any good whitening preparation, after washing the hands in warm water and using some good soap. Rub in the whitening unguent, giving an extra rubbing to the backs of the hands. Anything of a greasy nature well rubbed in tends to fatten, and so a thin hand can be made softer.

Draw the fingers out, and if the tips are flat pinch them persistently, making the object of the process to obtain a hogbacked nail. Careful manicuring, of course, makes the nails themselves pretty, but excessive manicuring is injurious. Lastly, draw on the gloves, which naturally will be much too big, and fasten them as long as no sense of stopping the circulation is felt.

Glycerin and rose water, mixed in the proportions of one-third glycerin to two-thirds rose water, is very good for the hands. The great secret of success in skin unguents is to find out what suits individual cuticles and use it.

On going to bed young ladies who suffer from red arms and elbows, or that ugly appearance like mottled soap, should thoroughly massage them with their toilet cream or pomade, and then quickly powder with any reliable powder.

Method of Sterilizing Milk.

To kill all the bacteria usually found in milk—and there is always a wonderfully great and diversified army of them—it requires to be heated a few minutes at about 234 degs. F. A special steam sterilizer is necessary to attain such a high temperature. The same effects may be obtained usually by boiling the milk about thirty minutes. Heating a few minutes between 158 degs. and 176 degs. is sufficient to destroy temporarily the energy of a large number of milk microbes, including several disease germs, but does not kill many of them, and is not, therefore, sufficient as a preservative means. This is the temperature (about 167 degs.), the application of which is known as pasteurization.

The Bacteriological World, authority for the foregoing, says that it is not only to destroy disease germs that sterilization is indicated. Indeed, in infant feeding it is chiefly to prevent the irritative action of acid produced by microbes or germs of all kinds, whether truly milk ferments, pathogenic bacteria, or organisms harmless under ordinary circumstances.

Milk coagulates, acidifies, under the influence or vegetative phenomena of various ferment organisms. The acid produced has the most baneful action on the delicate stomach and intestinal canal of the child. Sterilization of fresh milk destroys the property of the germs before any acid is produced by their process of nutrition.

ETIQUETTE

LADIES' LUNCHEON.

How to Seat the Guests and an Attractive Menu for the Occasion.

At a ladies' luncheon the hostess takes the head of the table and places the guest of honor at her right hand.

Unless cards are used, the hostess should have so clear an idea in her own mind of where each guest is to sit as to be able to direct them to their places without confusion. It is not necessary for the guests to go in in couples. The hostess usually takes the guest of honor, and the others may fall into line as they please.

Harper's Bazar, which is authority for the foregoing, says that "A pretty lunch might comprise bouillon; small squares of fried halibut and Parisian potatoes; either sweetbread patties, broiled chicken, or lamb chops with green peas; tomato mayonnaise salad, ices or charlotte russe, or some other dessert; fruit and coffee; salted almonds and olives as hors d'œuvres. The entree may be omitted if desired.

Hints About Invitations.

Invitations to small and rather informal entertainments can be written on a lady's visiting card with perfect propriety, according to an authority on "Manners," though informal notes are more customary. In inviting the different members of a family the name of the daughter or daughters is frequently placed after that of the parents on a card of invitation, but a son should always receive a separate card. When several sisters in a family receive an invitation addressed to "The Misses," it is usually understood that not more than two of them will avail themselves of the invitation. Invitations for any general entertainment sent to a country house where guests are stopping are as a rule addressed to "Mr. and Mrs. Green and party," this invitation including the sons and daughters of the house as well as the visitors.

OUR YOUNG FOLKS

A GRASSHOPPER'S EARS.

A Funny State of Affairs Discovered by Modern Naturalists.

Here is a funny state of affairs. A grasshopper has its ears in its forelegs! Supposing one of your friends had an ear on each of his arms, between the hand and elbow, would you not think it a very queer place? Yet this is just where nature has placed them in crickets and grasshoppers, says a writer in St. Nicholas.

PART OF LEG OF GRASSHOPPER SHOWING EAR.

On the sides of their forelegs may be seen a bright, shiny spot, oval in form, which has been found to be a true ear. Old naturalists supposed these strange structures helped in some way to intensify the penetrating, chirping sounds of crickets. No one for a moment thought they might be ears, and I don't much wonder at it. However, Sir John Lubbock and other modern naturalists have decided that crickets, bees, ants and other little animals shall not keep their sense organs a secret from us any longer; and although these are often in the least suspected places, still by careful experiments they are sure to be discovered, as was the cricket's ear. Some grasshoppers have no ears in their legs, and as a rule these cannot sing.

While on the subject of ears I have something else to tell you. There is a certain member of the crustacean family whose two ears would give you much trouble to find; for where do you suppose they are? In one of the segments of its tail!

The part of the leg of a grasshopper showing the ear in the illustration is, of course, greatly magnified.

A Chicken Story.

Very tame hens frequently show a desire to talk in their way, and it is often possible to make out their meaning. "One day a Cochin hen," tells a chicken fancier in Golden Days, "came and stood in front of me, looked me full in the face and complained loudly of something I could not translate farther. Patient investigation revealed that one end of her perch had slipped down, and Mrs. Buff had no idea of sleeping on an inclined plane. Another time a nervous little Leghorn met me at the henhouse door, fairly screaming and jumping with excitement. I understood from the cackle which finished each sentence that she had been disturbed on her nest. I did not wonder at her new powers of cackling when I found the nest occupied by a cat and three small kittens. When the chickens first begin to move in the egg, just before hatching, the mother hen sings to them a low, crooning song, very sweet and never heard at any other time. A friend tells me that her canary startled her one day by an entirely new call. It was so plainly 'Come here—quick!' that she hurried to the cage to find a big cat, with its face pressed against the window pane, staring in at poor Ned—a danger sufficiently great to account for the call."

Song of the Wind.

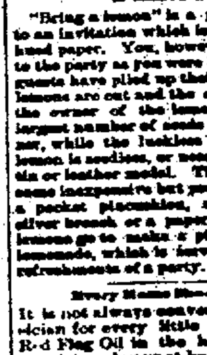
I've a great deal to do, a great deal to do;
Don't speak to me, children, I pray;
These little boys' hats must be blown off their heads,
And the little girls' bonnets away.

There are bushels of apples to gather today,
And oh, there's no end to the mud
O'er many long roads I must travel away,
And many by-lanes and short cuts.

There are thousands of leaves lying lazily here
That needs must be whirled round and round!
A rickety house wants to see me, I know,
In the most distant part of the town.

There are signs to be creaked, and doors to be slammed,
Loose window blinds, too, must be shaken!
When you know all the business I must do today,
You will see how much trouble I've taken.

The Good Child.



"IT IS I!"

When Tommy Brown came home from school
A frown was on his brow;
His mother said, "What's happened, Tom?
What is the matter now?"
Said Tommy, with a darker scowl,
"I wish that you could see
The way the other children act!
They're bad as bad can be!

"They push and pull and tear my clothes,
And make a horrid noise;
They fight at recess time, and the girls
Are worse than the boys!
They plague me so I cannot learn,
It is no use to try;
There's just one good one in the school,
And that one, it is I!"

Said Mrs. Brown, "Oh, dear! Oh, dear!
Now, I have heard them say
That all the other children talk
In just that very way.
And each, if anything goes wrong,
When questioned, will reply,
'There's just one good one in the school,
And that one, it is I.'"

—Little Men and Women.

A Lemon Party.

"Bring a lemon" is a puzzling addition to an invitation which is printed on lemon hued paper. You, however, carry a lemon to the party as you were bid. After all the guests have piled up their golden fruit the lemons are cut and the seeds counted, and the owner of the lemon containing the largest number of seeds is the prize winner, while the luckless individual whose lemon is seedless, or nearly so, gets a huge tin or leather medal. The prize is usually some inexpensive but pretty trifle, such as a pocket pincushion, a collar button, a silver brooch or a paper cutter. The cut lemons go to make a pitcher of delicious lemonade, which is served with the usual refreshments of a party.

THE ELECTIONS.

As usual the elections on Tuesday last resulted in Republican victories wherever national issues were at stake. In Ohio Maj. McKinley was elected by 20,000 or more majority, and the Legislature elect is largely Republican on joint ballot. In that State no questions were discussed by the leading candidates excepting those relating to national issues. Both Maj. McKinley and Gov. Campbell entirely ignored State issues, and the result of the election shows conclusively that the people favor protection to American industries and are opposed to a debased currency.

In Pennsylvania the Democrats made every effort to make an issue on a poor devil by the name of John Bardsley, who has been sent to the penitentiary by Republican officials for embezzling public funds. The Republican speakers claimed that this was the skirmish of the great battle of next year and they forced the fight on national issues. The result shows the wisdom of their position. The Republican State ticket is elected by nearly if not quite 60,000 majority.

The fight in New York centered on Tammany Hall, consequently the Republicans lost the State ticket. The Democrats, however, lost both branches of the Legislature, which makes the result in that State a drawn battle. No doubt the use of money had very much to do with the election of Governor, as it was as free as water with the purchasable element throughout the State. Also the belief on the part of thousands of Republicans that Fassett was Platt's candidate caused them to be indifferent as to the result and they either remained at home or quietly voted against their party ticket.

The latest accounts indicate that the election in Massachusetts resulted in a drawn battle—Governor Russell (dem.) being re-elected with the remainder of the Republican State ticket being successful.

In Iowa the whiskey element and the Prohibitionists succeeded in re-electing Boies, the Democratic candidate for Governor.

SOME early election returns will be found on our first page.

ALMOND OSTRANDER runs like a race horse. He deserved every vote he received.

ELSEWHERE in this paper will be found the official vote of this county as cast on Tuesday last.

THERE will be no Mohlgenizing in Ohio at the next session of the Legislature. The Republicans will be in control.

FRANK SLOCUM'S interests were looked after by the country boys if the city did go back on him. He has a good majority in the county.

THE election of Mr. Schram, the Republican candidate for Associate Judge of Elk county, was a stunner to the Democrats of that county.

THE election of the Republican city ticket in Philadelphia on Tuesday last, by an overwhelming majority, is exceedingly gratifying to Republicans all over Pennsylvania.

WE extend congratulations to Hon. J. H. Longenecker, who was elected Judge of the Bedford-Somerset district. The Democrats hoped to steal a Judge in that district but their plans were knocked in the head.

MR. FASSETT was badly worsted at his home in Elmira and in the county of Chemung, N. Y., on Tuesday. A candidate who cannot run ahead of his ticket among his neighbors has no business on a State ticket.

THE Wellsboro Agitator last week says: "We now know two nominating systems that the MINER is opposed to—the proportionate-delegate system and the popular vote system." At no time nor under any circumstances has the MINER said or even intimated that it was opposed to a proportionate-delegate system. The editor of the Agitator is not as knowing an individual as he claims to be.

IN its efforts to reform the financial affairs of Pennsylvania it would be well for Governor Pattison to look after the printing bills of the State Printer. There are being piled up in the Court House at this place hundreds of pounds of blanks which will never be used. Enough comes every year to supply the demand for ten years. They are blanks for the Prothonotary and Recorder to make returns of judgments, mortgages, &c., to the Commissioners' office, also blanks for Assessors to furnish taxpayers for money at interest. Probably every county in the State is being flooded with these blanks. That State Printers get rich in a few years should surprise no one.

[illegible], N. Y., Nov. 4.—Frederick B. Washburn and William Douglass have been committed for indictment on a charge of assaulting Mary and Maggie [illegible], aged 9 and 10 years. They seized the children on their way home from school and dragged them into some woods. The cries of the children brought aid and [illegible].

Novelties in Note Paper.

Fashionable note paper includes pale blue, ecru pink, cream and copper colors. The paper itself is quite plain, makes no allusion to ornament and only gains effect by the soft beautiful color. Sometimes the top left corner of white paper has an [illegible] "dog's-ear," on which a pretty blank or real monogram is embossed. [illegible]

OUR SUCCESSFUL CANDIDATES.

A SUIT FOR INSURANCE.

John B. Page's Heirs Want a Company to Pay Them $10,000.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—A suit has been brought in the supreme court in Brooklyn against the Mutual Reserve Life association to recover $10,000, being a part of the insurance on the life of the late ex-Governor John B. Page, of Vermont. The plaintiff is James H. Stewart of Brooklyn. Mr. Stuart was made the assignee of the claim by the executors of the Page estate to save the executors the trouble of taking out ancillary letters of administration here.

Mr. Page was prominently connected with many charitable, financial and commercial institutions. Until a year or two before his death he had almost unlimited credit with the leading banks of the eastern states. His personal integrity was never questioned, but his accommodation to the financial concerns with which he was identified in loaning his credit to them nearly forced him to the wall. He had become heavily liable as indorser for these institutions and finally was forced to personally meet the obligations which nearly threw him into bankruptcy.

A BIG INSURANCE.

He carried nearly $200,000 insurance on his life, some of which he hypothecated as security when his financial troubles began. On Sept. 25, 1885, he took out two certificates of membership in the Mutual Reserve Fund Life association of this city, each entitling his legal representatives at his death to receive $5,000. Both certificates provided for the payment of the money within ninety days after the receipt of satisfactory proof of Mr. Page's death. Governor Page died in October, 1890, leaving a widow and seven children. It was for their benefit that he took out this extra insurance.

The complaint alleges that due proof of the death of Governor Page was furnished the association and that on April 30, 1890, the officers of the association approved it and promised to pay the insurance on or before July 30 of the same year.

LEVIED ATTACHMENTS.

It also alleges that between April 30 and July 30, 1890, the association made an assessment upon its members in which was included the claim of Governor Page as due and payable. About this time one of the heirs began proceedings against the [illegible] in Vermont and levied attachments on most of the insurance policies. Some time was spent in fighting these suits and the attachments were finally vacated.

During the period of the litigation the Mutual Reserve Fund life association remained inactive so far as the Page claim is concerned. When the attachments were vacated, however, the executors of the estate promptly received notice from the association, stating that they refused to pay the claim and that the approval of the claim previously made was cancelled and annulled. The assignment of the claim was thereupon made to Mr. Stuart and the suit commenced.

MAKE A DENIAL.

In their answer the officers of the Mutual Reserve Fund Life association deny that they have satisfactory knowledge that Governor Page is dead, but admit that a proof of death was made by the executors which they approved, and that they made a mortuary assessment upon their members in which this claim was mentioned and included, but they deny that it was stated in the assessment that the claim was "due and payable."

They also declare that Governor Page misrepresented the facts in his application for membership, making untrue answers to many material questions. This, they say, they were unaware of at the time.

The statute of limitations is also set up as a defense. It is claimed that by the terms of the certificate of membership no proceedings can be taken against the association after the elapse of one year from the date of the death of Governor Page.

Exceeded His Authority.

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—The right of a judge to prohibit attorneys from the examination of talesmen has been controverted by the Illinois supreme court. Judge Horton of Chicago made up his mind in the Donovan case two years ago during the Cronin trial that too much time was lost in empanelling juries, and announced that he himself would examine the veniremen, leaving the lawyers out in the cold. This innovation came pretty near taking away the breaths of the majority of the Chicago lawyers, but Attorney George Boyd determined to appeal the case which the supreme court has just reversed and remanded on the ground that the judge exceeded his authority in selecting the jury as he did. The prisoner who was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary, will thus be released.

Put Up and Put Down.

I want a word to rhyme with ills.
I have it now: I'll put down pills.
Excuse me, though—then put down pills,
I'd rather suffer some big ills.

To put down the old-fashion, huge, bitter pill, that griped and made such disturbance internally is more than a wise man will do. He will not put up with such unnecessary suffering. He uses Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. As a liver pill, they are unequaled. Smallest, cheapest, easiest to take. Put up in vials, hermetically sealed, hence always fresh and reliable, which is not true of the large pills in wood or pasteboard boxes. As a gentle laxative, only one Pellet for a dose. Three to four of these tiny, sugar-coated granules act pleasantly and painlessly as a cathartic.

A GREAT MAGAZINE.

That great American periodical, The Century, is going to outdo its own unrivaled record in its programme for 1892, and as many of its new features begin with the November number, new readers should commence with that issue.

In this number are the opening chapters of "The Naulahka," a novel by Rudyard Kipling, the famous author of "Plain Tales from the Hills," written in collaboration with an American writer, Wolcott Balestier. It is the story of a young man and a young woman from a "booming" Colorado town, who go to India, he in search of a wonderful jeweled necklace, called "the Naulahka" (from which the story takes its name), and she as physician to women. The novel describes their remarkable adventures at the court of an Indian maharajah. Besides this, The Century will print three other novels during the year, and a great number of short stories by the best American story writers.

The well-known humorist Edgar W. Nye ("Bill Nye") is to write a series of amusing sketches which he calls his "autobiographies," the first one of which, "The Autobiography of a Justice of the Peace," is in November. This number also contains a valuable and suggestive article on "The Food-Supply of the Future," which every farmer should read, to be followed by a number of others Of Great Practical Value to Farmers, treating especially of the relations of the Government to the farmer, what it is doing and what it should do. This series will include contributions from officers of the Department of Agriculture, and other well known men will discuss "The Farmer's Discontent," "Cooperation," etc., etc.

A celebrated Spanish writer is to furnish a "Life of Columbus," which will be brilliantly illustrated, and the publishers of The Century have arranged with the managers of the World's Fair to print articles on building, etc.

One of the novels to appear in 1892 is A Story of New York Life by the author of "The Anglomaniacs," and the magazine will contain a great deal about the metropolis during the year,—among other things a series of illustrated articles on "The Jews in New York." In November is an illustrated description of "The Players' Club," founded by Edwin Booth, and one of the features of the splendidly illustrated articles on "The Bowery."

FROM THE STATE CAPITAL.

From our own correspondent.

HARRISBURG, Nov. 3d, 1891.—To-morrow will witness the political battle which is the advance skirmish of the great contest that will take place next year, when prosperous United States must decide whether to continue its onward march of better times, and more prosperous, or whether it will turn the hands of time backward a hundred years and become the inferior and vassal of the Free Trade European Governments. The contest to be won or lost to-morrow will decide the battle of 1892 and before this letter can be put into cold type the verdict will have been rendered.

Massachusetts, New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio will have spoken and here let me make a prediction that events of the past few week have pointedly foreshadowed.

New York and our own State will moor themselves fast and firm to republican principles. Ohio will, by a handsome majority, sustain the principles of protection, as advocated in the bill urged through the last Congress by the gallant McKinley, who will be elected Governor, and Massachusetts will send greeting to her sister States. "We are with you in the good work."

The North will be redeemed and 1892 is safe.

During all of last week Pattison's extra session of the Senate was the scene of democratic attemps to manufacture campaign literature, but it was an utter failure in every attempt. The republicans were ever on the alert and while they courted the widest latitude in the investigations, the doors were always closed tight to all irrelevant and political questions. The Demmy's were balked on every hand and Hensel like a whipped spaniel painfully manifested his chagrin and disapointment at the position he was many times placed in, while the political clown and harlequin, Ross of Bucks county, turned flip-flaps whenever the boss pulled the hidden string that led over to Harrity's sanctum. The democrats floundered and squirmed in a pitcable manner and Governor Pattison got lots of politics out of Harrity's session, but it was not the kind that the Governor expected when he called the Senate together in extra session. The entire extra session has been a mortifying exhibition of the democratic insincerity, coached by the most unscrupulous of political bosses that has ever aspired to leadership. The final results of this expensive extra session can have but one ending. The persecution of Mr. McCamant and Mr. Boyer had but one object for its purpose and that was to cheat the people of this State and make political capital for a third rate politician, who has been flattered into the belief that he may become the choice of the National Democracy for the exalted position of President of the United States.

The campaign is ended and further use for the extra session is nil; render your verdict gentlemen, Senators, "not guilty." The proceedings of the investigation will justify your findings and the people of the State will uphold you in your verdict, and added to your verdict the popular voice will tell you that the accusers, in this farce of Executive virtuous purity, are unworthy to blacken the boots of such honest and straightforward men as Tom McCamant and Harry Boyer.

The Senate adjourned on Friday last to allow the Senators an opportunity to go home and vote. The session will resume its sittings on Wednesday evening next at 8 o'clock. The almost universal opinion however is that the session having failed of its purpose, the Governor will have no further use for it and it would not be displeasing to him if it should close its work and go home.

The question of the Senate's jurisdiction in the matter for which the session has been convened has been so ably argued by the Counsel for the accused and it has been so conclusively that the Governor has made a great mistake, it would not be at all surprising if the proceedings would collapse in a very few days after the reconvening of the Senate. This, at least, is a freely expressed opinion by many who have been constant attendants upon the sessions and have listened attentively to all the arguments that have, thus far, been made.

What the Governor's move after the election may be is of course conjecture on the part of those who are outside of the Executive family.

Your correspondent will endeavor to keep the readers of the MINER thoroughly posted on events as they occur. ALCROFT.

In Plain English.

Unquestionably considered of incalculable consequence in correcting all constitutional contaminations, is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Can conscientiously commend it to careful consideration, confident of its competency in incontrollable chronic complaints.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is the result of much research and wide experience, by a practical physician of world-renown; its formula embraces the most potent restoratives of the whole vegetable kingdom. It is especially recommended for all blood disorders—dyspepsia, liver and kidney complaints, scrofula, salt-rheum, catarrh and consumption—in all its early stages—insuring relief and cure in all cases!

CLOAKS.

The limit of the prevailing styles in ladies' overgarments is the limit of our stock, and this applies to both jackets and wraps. If we had to do it over again we'd buy and make exactly the same sorts as are here now. The cost is not exclusive. The garments are They'll make the women who wear them thoroughly well dressed.

The assortment is as we like it. We like to give our customers better than they expect, and this season's styles are the feather in our cap. There's nothing all over Western New York to compare.

FURS.

You may not be so much intersted in sealskins we sell as the general line of fur garments. We have managed somehow to bring down the price to you of fine furs—so much so that it's only a question of how soon you can get to look at them.

DRESS GOODS:

The mere mention last week of half dollar dress goods selling for 25c was enough to keep the mail order clerks busy. Think of getting 44-inch worsted plaids at 25 cents! Or see what a shilling will do in a narrower width. It's a stylish stuff you can't wear out in a hurry and it'll wash like linen.

MAIL ORDERS:

If you will do yourself the favor to send for a copy of our fall and and winter catalogue, shopping by mail will be easy enough. You can depend getting what you send for every time.

The Waves.

Two waves came down upon the stream
With light discourse and play;
Together they would drift and dream,
The sun was far away.
An inland rain, sharp-fronted, rent
Their bond with stern decree;
By currents far apart they went,
But met amidst the sea.
So in life's stream fond hearts that flow
As one, apart are cast!
But in that sea to which we go
They all shall meet at last.

—Coudersport has a new paper called the Farmers' Voice, published in the interest of the Farmers Alliance and Industrial Union.

The publication of a new paper, to be known as the Herald, will soon be commenced at Mt. Jewett, by George Northrup, of Bradford.

The marble capitol building at Hartford, Conn., is 300 feet long and the engineers declare it is three inches longer in summer than in winter.

A leading city physician warns his patients against eating potatoes showing the least particle of rot. If rot shows itself the potato is affected all over.

The boy who begins in early life to stay out late of nights, and smoke cigarettes, even though he does nothing worse, hasn't long to stay. He soon becomes an angel.

Two very large congregations listened to the very interesting discourses delivered by Rev. E. E. Helms, on Light and Dark Africa, at the M. E. church, last Sunday.

Joe Reilly is doing a good job in repairing the stone steps leading from the street to the rear of the court house. They have been in a dilapidated condition for some time past.

The regular services of the M. E. church will be held in the court house on Sunday next, at the usual hours. In the evening Rev. E. E. Helms will talk to young men. All are invited.

The buckwheat crop this year is immense, which leads an observant farmer to remark: "That means one of the coldest and toughest winters you ever saw. Now just keep watch and see if I'm not correct."

Wm. Manser has secured the services of a first-class blacksmith, in the person of George Fowler, from Bradford, a man of considerable experience. Mr. Manser is to be congratulated on securing so able an assistant.

—There will be an open meeting of the G. A. R., and W. R. C., in the Grand Army Hall on Thursday evening of next week. The Corps will serve a New England dinner. You had better get there if possible.

The ladies of St. Luke's Guild entertained their friends at their rooms, in the Backus building, on Monday evening last, in elegant style. Refreshments were served which were much enjoyed by all in attendance.

The Eldred Eagle in speaking of the recent unveiling ceremonies, says, "Dr. McCoy and the choir from St. Luke's church in Smethport, deserve special mention for the excellent and appropriate music rendered."

There are two things that every self-respecting person should strive to win, the praise of honest men and the abuse of rascals. But how easy it is to convince yourself that any one who speaks ill of us is either a knave or a fool.

T. H. Curtis is building a large addition to his already commodious blacksmith shop and carriage works. The new part will be used as a paint shop, the rapid increase in the business of carriage painting making its erection a necessity.

—The work of decorating the M. E. church, the money for which was raised by the young ladies of the Industrial League, was commenced this week. Chas. Olmsted has the job of painting and frescoing, an assurance that the work will be artistically done.

—Prof. S. Hillyer, the Mesmerist, will appear at the opera house, to-night, Saturday and Monday. Prof. Hillyer has been before the public for a number of years, and having redeemed every pledge, he has been uniformly successful. He is accompanied by several specialists who are well spoken of.

—It is the desire of the G. A. R. to erect in Washington, D. C., a monument to Gen. Grant. The necessary money is being raised by popular subscription among the Grand Army Posts of the country. It is calculated that $10,000 will be required to erect such a monument.

—Mr. Ellsworth Stevens, of Pittsburgh, and Miss Maude Stevens, of Keating township, were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents, on Wednesday evening, Rev E. E. Helms performing the ceremony. The happy couple left for Pittsburgh, where they will make their future home, accompanied by the well-wishes of a host of friends.

—The fates seem to be against Ed Daily. No soon has he recovered from one than another misfortune overtakes him. A short time since he received a severe injury by being struck in the head while moving a building and on Saturday last a stone thrown from a sling shot struck him in the eye, inflicting a severe injury, which threatened for a time to impair his sight. We are pleased to say however, that the danger is now passed.

—The bread-fruit tree flourishes in many of the islands of the South Pacific ocean, and also in some of the islands of the East Indies. It is a comparatively large tree, averaging, perhaps, one foot in diameter. The fruit is as large as a child's head. It is covered with a thin skin and has a relatively small core. It is snowy white and about the consistency of newly-baked bread. In order to prepare it for food it is cut into large slices and roasted.

—An observing man in a neighboring county noticed a few days ago a potato bug which seemed to be in great agony, and examined the pest. He found under its wing an oval-shaped parasite that was puffed and elongated with the life powers of the bug, which had been treated as if by a blood-sucker. The gardener afterwards found several other bugs with the same parasite under their wings in different stages of aggression, which he thinks explains the reason that the bugs are disappearing.

We think if the stay-at-home members of the E. A. U. knew what they were missing, but few would be numbered with the absentees. The musical and literary exercises under the good of the order are not only very entertaining, but are of a high order of excellence. And by the way, new members are being added to the roll at nearly every meeting. The Union now has a membership of about seventy and meets the second and fourth Wednesday evenings of each month, in I. O. O. F. hall.

—On Saturday evening last a number of the members of Smethport Union, E. A. U., visited Mr. and Mrs W. H. Knight, who are about to depart for Dakota, at their residence on lower Main street. Although somewhat surprised Mr. and Mrs. Knight were equal the the occasion. After an hour or two spent in social enjoyment, an elegant lunch was served, and with the well wishes of all present, for a safe and pleasant journey and expressing the hope that all might meet again, the guests took their leave.

—At the base of every scheme by which the ignorant are fleeced, is found the delusive suggestion of getting something for nothing. The green goods spider attracts flies by the offer of counterfeit money, so perfect as to be readily taken for the genuine, at about ten per cent. in exchange for genuine money. It does not strike the intended victim that the person making the offer could just as easily pass the bogus money himself and save ninety cents on the dollar. The desire of getting something for nothing draws the victim, part fool and part knave into the net of the swindler, and he and his money are separated.

—This composition on trees was written by a London schoolboy: "Trees are very useful. There are all sorts of trees the cokernut tree and orange apple and plum trees. Cokernuts are very uble people. In the pacific and foreign nations live on cokenuts and many other fruits. Apple trees and orange trees are very nice. There are trees that do not bloom, oak trees and hay corn trees and pine apples trees never bloom. Some trees are very tall they stand from the height of 10 to 15 yds high and some are taller than that. Trees are very usefl for wild rabits and hares and dears. There is no wild beasts in England only in foreign nations.

—The Port Allegany Reporter, says: "Last week one day several young ladies drove over to Smethport and were in attendance at the Institute. The weather forbade their return that day. They were invited as guests to the Grand Central hotel by the genial proprietor, Frank Taylor, and while in that borough made their headquarters at that well-known and popular hostelry. Thanks being the only thing that the proprietor would accept for their entertainment, the Reporter takes this opportunity of adding its appreciation to the profuse thanks of the young ladies." We are not surprised at this act. It is just like Frank Taylor, who is one of the most genial, whole-souled landlords in the State.

The Western Settler's Chosen Specific.

With every advance of emigration into the far West, a new demand is created for Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Newly peopled regions are frequently less salubrious than older settled localities, on account of the miasma which rises from recently cleared land, particularly along the banks of rivers that are subject to freshets. The agricultural or mining emigrant soon learns, when he does not already know, that the Bitters afford the only sure protection against malaria, and those disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels, to which climatic changes, exposure, and unaccustomed or unhealthy water or diet subject him. Consequently, he places an estimate upon this great household specific and preventive commensurate with its intrinsic merits, and is careful to keep on hand a restorative and promoter of health so implicitly to be relied upon in time of need.

Sudden Deaths.

Heart disease is by far the most frequent cause of sudden death, which in three out four cases is unsuspected. The symptoms are not generally understood. These are: a habit of lying on the right side, short breath, pain or distress in side, back or shoulder, irregular pulse, asthma, weak and hungry spells, wind in stomach, swelling of ankles or dropsy, oppression, dry cough and smothering. Dr. Miles' illustrated book on Heart Disease, free at A. B. Armstrong's, who sell and guarantee Dr. Miles' unequaled New Heart Cure, and his Restorative Nervine, which cures nervousness, headache, sleeplessness, effects of drinking, etc. It contains no opiates.

PERSONAL MENTION.

We would deem it a favor if those having friends visiting in this place would notify us by postal or by leaving a notice at this office.

Miss Nellie Backus and Miss Rose King attended the party given in honor of the fifteenth anniversary of the birth of Miss Grace Sartwell, at Port Allegany, last Friday.

J. P. Huffman left yesterday for Washington State, where he will be followed by his sister in the near future. We understand they will make that state their future home.

We omitted to mention last week that Henry C. Gilbert, from Trinity College, Hartford, Conn., had assumed the position of Assistant Principal in the Smethport schools, made vacant by the resignation of Rev. W. F. Shero.

Harry Backus, who has been confined to the house for several weeks past from the effects of an accident received last spring, surprised his many friends by appearing on our streets Wednesday. We trust the improvement may continue and be permanent.

Good Advice.

To use this terse and homely phrase, my friend, let us mind our own business. There is enough to do in our lives; let us be unmindful of the affairs of others, except in so far as we can be helpful and of real benefit. Let us be charitable in all our conclusions, mindful of the fact that we so often need the cloak of charity ourselves. As we would wish to be judged, so let us judge others—always with a kindly spirit, ever with a belief in the better self. Strew a flower where others throw a stone. Fill your life so full of sunshine that evil reports will find no place where you are. Stop petty scandals by some pretty story of womanly kindness. Make your life a bright spot in this world and where you see a frown throw a smile, whether it be morn, dusk or night, let the sunny side of your nature always be at at full meridian.—Detroit Free Press.

To Visit California and Mexico via Pennsylvania Railroad.

No new features ever inaugurated by the Pennsylvania railroad company attracted such universal comment and attention as the series of tours run early this year to the far Pacific coast, and now that another series is announced for 1892, not only covering the Pacific coast but an individualized tour to Mexico, the land of the Aztec, is further illustration of the wonderful growth of the personally conducted system of traveling and the progressive move of this world-famed railroad. Each tour will be limited to a certain number of passengers, who will travel in a Pullman vestibule train, furnished with the luxurious appointments of the richest house, with ladies' maid, stenographer and typewriter, library, bath and barber, and smoking and library rooms, and an observation car—in truth an exact reproduction of the famous Pennsylvania Limited. The first tour leaves New York January 13th, and speeds directly to the Pacific coast via St. Louis, Kansas City, Las Vegas, and Santa Fe. The second tour, the Mexican, leaves February 13th, running directly to the City of Mexico via Cincinnati, Mammoth Cave, Birmingham, Montgomery and New Orleans, with incidental stops en route. The third, February 24th, runs directly to New Orleans via Cincinnati and Mammoth Cave, and thence, after the Mardi Gras festivities, to the Pacific coast. The fourth and fifth, both through California tours, will leave March 24th and April 20th, respectively.

The inauguration of this series last year was the theme for universal comment, and the warmest credentials of praise bear testimony to the high standard and perfection of every detail promoting the comfort and enjoyment of the tourists.

Such an opportunity has never been presented before to the people of the East of thoroughly seeing the vast domain of the country they so valiantly boast of, as well as such an opportunity of visiting the interesting land of the Aztec, replete with ruins garlanded with mythical lore. The rates for the round trip are exceptionally low, and include not only all traveling expenses en route to the Pacific Coast and return, but also side trips to the attractive resorts in California, and several carriage and stage rides of interest. This applies as well to the Mexican tour, where the objective point will be the city of Mexico and side trips made from there, the rate including every necessary expense as well as hotel accommodations and side trips.

Itineraries presenting the full details of the tours are in course of preparation, and will be issued at an early day. In the meantime more detailed information may be secured by addressing Geo. W. Boyd, Asst. General Passenger Agent, Philadelphia, Pa.

Miss Drusie Smith, the Fraley street milliner, has nearly convalesced from her severe attack of fever. Little hope was had at one time for her recovery.

Election passed of here, neither party except the Prohibition manifested much interest, less than one half the vote was out. Gregg had 141; Morrison 141; Wright 84; Tilden 81; Osborn 125; Ostrander 125; Stewart 84; Keefe 84.

The boys had a glorious time on Saturday night. Many curses and loud imprecations were heard from teamsters on Monday morning while searching for their wagons that were found scattered along the Kinzua and Jo-Jo roads.

The new regulation sidewalks laid by Robt. Fitzpatrick and Mrs. E. Philips, in front of their properties, improves the street and walking. Now let Squire Gillis and Mr. Jas. Hyde do likewise, and the west side of Fraley street will be the boulevard of Kane.

Kane will soon be noted for beautiful streets and elegant residences; in many instances the architecture of private buildings give evidence of thrift and enterprise of our citizens, and the seven graceful spires and cupolas of our churches that point heavenward, indicate a prevailing religious sentiment, and evidence that our people are not reading any light trash, but books of the masters.

On Sunday evening 8th inst., at 7:30, a union service of all the protestant congregations in Kane will be held in the M. E. church in the interest of the Young Mens Christian Association. Rev C. A. Jones of the 1st Congregation will preach the sermon; addresses will be delivered by Rev's. Amey, Neff and others. It is hoped all will turn out and assist our young people in their noble work.

A sad shooting accident happened Wednesday of last week on Dawson street, whereby Harry Clayson received injuries that may cripple him for life, and George Fitzpatrick, aged five years, was killed. Little George in his ride down the steep grade lost control of his little sled which ran into the fence, he received injuries that caused his death in four hours. He was tenderly cared for in his last moments by loving neighbors and grief stricken parents. He was the favorite of all who knew him who have now only a sweet remembrance of the loved one.

The remains of John W. Clossen who was injured at Limestone, New York, on the 15th of October, were brought to Kane for interment on Wednesday of last week. His many friends in Kane sympathize with his grief stricken parents. The Sons of Veterans of this place, of which order he was a member, had charge of the funeral. He was buried in the new Catholic Cemetery. It is now believed that there was foul play and that he was not struck by a train as was reported. A searching investigation is now being made. He was 24 years of age the day he was injured. His remains lay for 4 hours on the day of the funeral within 10 feet of where he was born.

The Rev. Stoneham is detained at Otto by illness in his family.

Mrs. J. Sloan and family have returned to their home in Coreopolis.

Mr. Ellis Brown left for his home in Spring creek on Sunday morning.

The pumps at the Tidewater were not running for several days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed McQuiston, of Bradford, spent last Sabbath with Mr. McQuiston's parents, Mr and Mrs. R. R. McQuiston.

Much sorrow is expressed by the schoolmates of Miss Susie Dana at her sudden death, which occurred in Bradford last week. The family were formerly residents of Rixford.

Mr. Burt Love, president of the Bradford Chapter of the Epworth League, spent Sunday in town and conducted a very interesting meeting on Sabbath evening in the M. E. church.

The social held at the M. E. parsonage was a very enjoyable affair. The house was filled with merry people, young and old, and the pecuniary result to the society was very satisfactory.

Sabbath evening a large congregation assembled to hear the first sermon of Mr. Taylor, the young man who is sent to take the place of the Rev. Stoneham. All expressed satisfaction and undoubtedly Mr. Taylor will make many friends in Rixford.

The result of the recent election held by the Rixford Chapter of the Epworth League is as follows: President, Prof. Eckels; 1st Vice-President, Margaret Martin; 2d Vice-President, Mrs. A. R. McQuiston; 3d Vice-President, Lotty Owen; Secretary, Kittie Cummings, Treasurer, Luella Love.

COLEGROVE.

Mrs. Albert Colegrove is visiting relatives in Smethport this week.

Messrs J. B. Kimball and John Oriatt were down to Olean Monday.

E. G. Patton and Will Previn were in Buffalo a few days last week, returning on Saturday.

Supt. Olmsted visited Bradford on Monday of this week attending to business for the U. P. L. Co.

Will Kimball, an employe on the Rochester and Pittsburgh R. R., visited his parents last Sunday.

A. W. Colegrove and N. W. Heinemann drove down to Smethport on Sunday to visit Mr. W. J. Colegrove.

Mrs. E. G. Patton has been suffering from an attack of neuralgia of the heart for the past week, but at present is apparently improving.

The ladies up and down the valley are busy making new carpets for two of the rooms in the M. E. Parsonage of this place. The ladies at Clermont are also helping the work along.

Two extra boilers have been placed in the boiler house of the U. P. L. works at this place. Much work is being done by the company in repairing and improving the buildings and grounds.

There are no new cases of scarlet fever reported except in the homes where the disease has been previously. Another child of Mr. J. Cymbia, also one of Mr. Thomas Hay, are sick with the fever.

CLERMONT.

W. C. Swartz, of Kane was in town last Saturday.

Charles Peterson, of Jamestown, is in town this week.

Mrs. Prescott is visiting her husband in Limestone, N. Y.

L. Bayer made a business trip to Olean one day last week.

Prof. Hillyer played to crowded houses on Saturday and Monday evenings.

Miss Mary Russell and Mrs. Reed went to Olean Thursday, returning Saturday.

John J. Hafner is the owner of the handsomest pair of carriage horses in this town.

Rev. Maynard and wife, of Colegrove, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. Boyer, last Friday.

John Sullivan, better known as Uncle John has gone to Chicago to spend the winter with his daughter Kate.

The person who cannot stand a little newspaper pleasantry, without getting mad, will find this a hard world to live in and their comforts will be few.

Smethport constables were quite numerous in town a part of last week. If those gentlemen do not keep away from here our town will be depopulated. Some of its inhabitants are in jail already and quite a number are traveling for their health.

QUINTON.

Mrs DeShelter has been on the sick list for several days.

John Omfero will move his family to Renova in a few days.

C. Foster is looking happy, its a boy of the usual weight.

Pronounced Hopeless, Yet Saved.

From a letter written by Mrs. Ada E. Hurd of Groton, S. D., we quote: "Was taken with a bad cold, which settled on my Lungs, cough set in and finally terminated in consumption. Four doctors gave me up saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Saviour, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I gave it a trial, took in all eight bottles; it has cured me and thank God I am now a well and hearty woman." Trial bottles at F. R. Foster's Drug store, regular size, 50c and $1.00.

MUSICAL FANCIES.

Traditional Stories on the Employment of Music as a Medical Agency.

As a medical agency music has in times past been much in request. At the present day in semicivilized countries where it is commonly believed that sickness is produced by the malignant influence of evil spirits, the usual method of driving these away is by music. In Burmah, when severe illness of any kind has baffled all human skill, it is customary to abandon all further medical treatment, the patient's complaint being supposed to be caused by an evil spirit, which must be driven away before any chance of recovery can be expected. This is accomplished by means of music, during the performance of which certain mystic rites are observed.

But apart from the idea of demoniacal possession as the cause of disease, music has from early times been in repute. Pythagoras and Xenocrates cured maniacs by melodious sounds, and, coming down to modern times, music as a cure for insanity is alluded to by Shakespeare in "Richard II" (Act V, scene 5), where the king says:

> This music mads me, let it sound no more,
> For though it help madmen to their wits,
> In me it seems it will make wise men mad.

Burton, also, in his "Anatomy of Melancholy" has given an account of the medical qualities of music, telling us that "besides that power it hath to expel many other diseases, it is a remedy against despair and melancholy, and will drive away the devil himself." Indeed, music may be said to form an interesting and important chapter in the history of medicine of bygone years, numerous remedies from its effects being recorded in medical and other works.

M. Burette was of opinion that music has the power of affecting the whole nervous system "so as to give a temporary relief in certain diseases," and Jacques Bonnet tells how on one occasion he was entertained by a friend, then in the service of the Prince of Orange, with the performance of three first rate musicians. This was the remedy, he informed him, which his master employed to get rid of melancholy whenever therewith oppressed.

Jean Ingelow's Poem "Divided."

Miss Jean Ingelow, in a letter recently published, tells the history of her well known poem "Divided." She says: "I wrote that nearly thirty years ago. My mother (newly a widow) took a house in the country for a few weeks, near Ongar, about a mile from where our friends the Isaac Taylors then lived. Passing one day through a field between the two houses I saw a little brook. We paused for some reason on its brink, being all on one side of it. It was too wide to be crossed, and we did not want to cross, but in imagination I followed it up to its source. It was a cause of division down there, but above it would not be; and I naturally appeared to perceive the two children at the source, and how it would divide them as they followed it. It was a symbol of those events in human life which naturally and inevitably divide. That really is all of the poem. It had only to be set down in words, and what little art there is in it is mainly with the first few words, for an 'empty sky' is always to my imagination as solemn as it is beautiful, and the beginning does not satisfy my notions unless in a work of art it belongs to the end."

A Feather in His Cap.

This phrase, signifying honor and distinction, arose from the custom prevalent among the ancient Syrians, and perpetuated to this day among the various savage or semicivilized tribes of Asia and America, of adding a new feather to their headgear for every enemy slain. In the days of chivalry the young knight received his casque featherless, and won his plumes as he had won his spurs. In a manuscript written by Richard Hansard in 1599, and preserved in the British museum, it is said of the Hungarians that it had been an ancient custom among them that none should wear a feather but he who had killed a Turk, and to such only it was lawful to show the number of feathers in their caps. In Scotland and Wales it is still customary for the sportsmen who kills his first woodcock to pluck out a feather and stick it in his cap.

Lamb's Cottage.

Although it is now nearly sixty years since Charles Lamb died, the little cottage in which he and his sister resided at Edmonton shows but slight evidence of any external change. Situated a few yards from the railway station, the house, with its gable facing the roadway, its red tiled roof and whitened walls, its narrow doorway and small paned windows, gives the impression of Old World comfort and seclusion. A rowan tree, on the branches of which hang clusters of red berries, stands at the gateway, and its autumnal appearance imparts just now a pictorial attraction to the interesting building, which is still known as Lamb's Cottage.

ETIQUETTE

FIVE O'CLOCK TEA.

Hints About Correct Form in Costume, Invitations, Card Leaving, Etc.

For a 5 o'clock tea a reception dress or dinner gown is the approved costume for the hostess and ladies receiving with her according to Good Housekeeping, though a simpler afternoon dress, or even an especially pretty tea gown is often substituted. The guests, on the other hand, invariably come in street dress, retaining bonnet and gloves, and if the rooms are crowded and the call is to be but a brief one, oftentimes even the cloak is not laid aside. A dressing room should always be provided, however, with a maid at hand to assist the guests with their wraps; and the woman who has a care for her health will gladly avail herself of the opportunity to throw off her cloak. Many a severe cold was contracted last winter by neglecting this precaution. The American drawing room is very apt to be overheated, and it stands to reason that a room tempered to the comfort of ladies in reception dress will be insufferable to the guest who has retained her cloak and has swallowed a cup of hot tea. She will be fortunate should she escape a chill on returning to her carriage.

A series of these informal teas often proves a most convenient means of introducing a guest to one's friends, says the authority already quoted, when the invitation will read thus:

> Mrs. Ralph Franklin
> Thursdays in October
> Five o'Clock Tea
> No. 21 Grove Avenue.

It is not incumbent upon those attending the tea to call afterward, in acknowledgment of the hospitality extended them. Either on entering or leaving the house each guest leaves a card upon a salver in the hall provided for that purpose. The invitation to tea is treated like an invitation to call, and the obligation rests with the hostess to call upon her guests afterward. In case of a series of teas, should one be unable to attend any of them, a card should be sent to the last of the number, and a visit should be paid the hostess as soon as practicable thereafter.

FANCY WORK.

Odds and Ends of Ribbon Transformed Into a Variety of Taking Articles.

Any one who wants to make up small articles for bazaars and church sales of fancy work or for pretty and useful little Christmas gifts among friends should investigate her collection of ribbons, for there are few materials that can be utilized to such good advantage. Many things can be made of bits of ribbon that are very salable and popular.

First, there are the small cube pincushions, all six sides exactly the same size, and each side generally formed of four little pieces of silk stretched over a card and beautifully sewn together, the size of each piece three-eighths of an inch square; the pincushion finished measures three-quarters of an inch. They can be made larger.

Then there are the small round pincushions made in sections, and sewn together with a piece of narrow ribbon between.

Another cushion suitable to a writing table and more novel is to procure a small doll, form the skirt of its dress of the bits of ribbon, sewn together with colored silks; stretch the skirt over several thicknesses of flannel, roll round till these form the petticoats the size of the cushion (a flat piece will be required for it to stand on); put the doll in at the top and add the waist to the dress; if the skirt was stretched on thin cardboard and filled with black sewing silk, it would make an excellent penwiper.

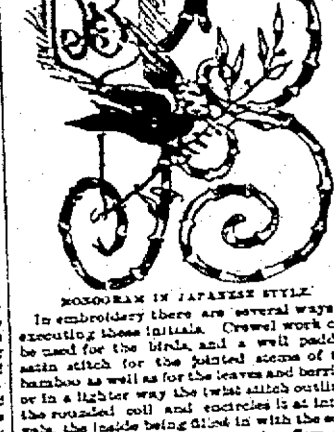
Strips of ribbon applied to common ticking, with an embroidered scroll pattern between the strips, are very pretty for satchels, cushions and the like.

Excellent book markers are made with strips of narrow ribbon sewn together, a small ornamental button with shank at the ends.

A bunch of little scent bags made of scraps of silk or ribbon is effective and pretty, and babies' bells for sale at bazaars can be arranged as follows: Tie some small bells onto lengths of ribbon, then gather them together in a bunch and fix them to a stick, previously covered in some way, with worsted or ribbon.

Monograms for Marking Linen.

Ornamental monograms for marking house and table linen, charmingly delineated in Japanese style, consist of letters in designs of bamboo stalks with decorations of birds in various positions, each holding a spray of foliage and berries. To this device is attached an escutcheon inclosing a smaller letter standing for a Christian name, the whole being reproduced in white or colored silks or cottons, effectively set off with washing gold thread. The colors must harmonize with either the toilet set, bed hangings or dinner service. These letters are really adaptable to every kind of decorative work where painting and embroidery are called into requisition.



MONOGRAM IN JAPANESE STYLE.

In embroidery there are several ways of executing these initials. Crewel work can be used for the birds, and a well padded satin stitch for the jointed stems of the bamboo as well as for the leaves and berries, or in a lighter way the twist stitch outlines the rounded coil and encircles it at intervals, the inside being filled in with the seed stitch, or, again, appliqué work offers another mode of displaying to great advantage this uncommon design, and in this case the bird may be painted if preferred.

Finishing and Cleaning Embroidery.

Embroideries that are just finished and taken from the frame frequently have a drawn appearance from some of the stitches being too tight. To obtain the smoothness which the completed work ought to have, careful stretching or pressing of the foundation is necessary. In many cases stretching the material over a smooth board covered with flannel or a clean cloth will remedy the difficulty, using thumb tacks along the edges to hold it in place. Let it remain several days, then remove, cover the face with tissue paper and roll it around a smooth stick. Do not iron new embroidery if it can be avoided; if it cannot, press it on the wrong side over two or three layers of flannel spread on the ironing board.

Gold lace and gold embroidery which are so effective in fancy work may be brightened up after they become tarnished with rock alum that has been burned, then powdered fine and sifted. Dip a clean soft brush into the powder and rub the gold lace briskly, afterward wipe with a clean soft flannel.

Crewel embroidery on linen or crash is nicely washed with bran water without soap or soda. Pour a gallon of boiling water over a pound of bran and leave it to soak for a day, stirring it occasionally. Strain the bran water through a coarse towel and use it luke warm to wash the crewel work. Do not wring it, but squeeze and press it gently through the hands. Dry near the fire and iron on the wrong side while damp, letting the embroidery press into thick flannel. Exposure to sunlight while drying is likely to fade the colors.

Potato Puff.

Potato puff is by many considered an improvement upon the usual way of making mashed potatoes. Stir over the fire until well mixed and hot two cupfuls mashed potato, the yolks of two eggs, three tablespoonfuls of cream, one tablespoonful of butter, with seasoning of salt and pepper. Add gradually the whites, well beaten, stir all well together, place in a buttered dish and bake in a quick oven till nicely browned.

Oyster Macaroni.

For oyster macaroni, wash and boil one-quarter pound of macaroni; when done line a baking dish with it, then add a layer of bread crumbs, seasoned with butter, salt and pepper, next a layer of oysters, and again macaroni and oysters, letting the last layer be of bread crumbs. Pour on one glass of milk and place in the oven.

Serious Danger

Threatens every man, woman or child living in a region of country where fever and ague is prevalent, since the germs of malarial disease are inhaled from the air and are swallowed from the water of such a region. Medicinal safeguard is absolutely necessary to nullify this danger. As a means of fortifying and acclimating the system so as to be able to resist the malarial poison, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is incomparably the best and the most popular. Irregularities of the stomach, liver and bowels encourage malaria; but these are speedily rectified by the Bitters. The functions of digestion and secretion are assisted by its use, and a vigorous as well as regular condition of the system promoted by it. Constitution and physique are thus defended against the inroads of malaria by this matchless preventive, which is also a certain and thorough remedy in worse cases of intermittent and remittent fever.

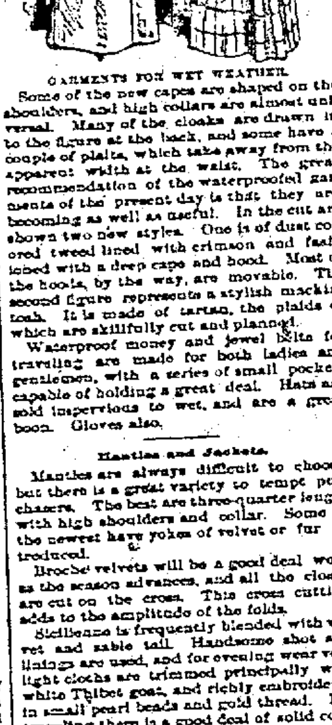
WATERPROOF GARMENTS.

Wraps for Rainy Weather Which Are Becoming to Fair Pedestrians.

No lady's wardrobe is complete without a waterproof wrap of some sort. There is a vast difference in these particular garments, but the best are always the cheapest in the end, and perfectly satisfactory. Shower proof cloaks may be more becoming and prettier of aspect, but when it comes to hard wear and tear there is nothing like the veritable mackintosh, especially as the manufacturers can ensure that there is no smell whatever. The waterproofs of a season or so ago were made with distinct skirts and capes. Now there are waterproofs with the skirts attached to front pieces, which are slipped over the shoulder, thus minimizing the weight. The capes are single breasted, for if they do open they show only a sort of vest of the same waterproof. Double breasted capes are also made, showing no buttons and lined with silk. The waterproofed material is often a pretty checked woolen, so that with the silk lining the cloaks can be made to answer the double purpose of a wrap.



GARMENTS FOR WET WEATHER.

Some of the new capes are shaped on the shoulders, and high collars are almost universal. Many of the cloaks are drawn in to the figure at the back, and some have a couple of plaits, which take away from the apparent width at the waist. The great recommendation of the waterproofed garments of the present day is that they are becoming as well as useful. In the cut are shown two new styles. One is of dust colored tweed lined with crimson and fashioned with a deep cape and hood. Most of the hoods, by the way, are movable. The second figure represents a stylish mackintosh. It is made of tartan, the plaids of which are skillfully cut and planned.

Waterproof money and jewel belts for traveling are made for both ladies and gentlemen, with a series of small pockets capable of holding a great deal. Hats are sold impervious to wet, and are a great boon. Gloves also.

Mantles and Jackets.

Mantles are always difficult to choose, but there is a great variety to tempt purchasers. The best are three-quarter length with high shoulders and collar. Some of the newest have yokes of velvet or fur introduced.

Broche velvets will be a good deal worn as the season advances, and all the cloaks are cut on the cross. This cross cutting adds to the amplitude of the folds.

Sicilienne is frequently blended with velvet and sable tail. Handsome shot silk linings are used, and for evening wear very light cloths are trimmed principally with white Thibet goat, and richly embroidered in small pearl beads and gold thread. For traveling there is a good deal of solid comfort in the ample woolen check cloaks, which have detachable capes, cut on the cross, descending almost to the knee.

The jackets are most of them of the highwayman order, with big flap pockets and deep gauntlet cuffs. These have a waistcoat and upstanding collar. There are jackets in black cloth, embroidered in black and gold, and jackets in fancy cloth elaborately braided. Cloth covert coats with their loose fronts and high turndown collar afford a pleasing variety.

Riding Habits.

As American women are not only following the English style in their manner of riding but also in the fashion of their habits, the accompanying cut will be of interest to lady equestrians. It shows a riding habit in blue cloth flecked with white and made with a double breasted coat cut with hip seams. The coat displays a scarlet cloth waistcoat. The skirt is cut so as to fit the saddle when the rider is seated. The derby hat worn with this habit is of the same color as the habit. An idea is also given of the style of saddle, livery of the groom, etc.

AN ENGLISH RIDING OUTFIT.

A French habit seen had the skirt in black Melton cloth. The waistcoat was in red cloth, crossed with black frogs, while the jacket worn over it was in fawn colored cloth. Mousquetaire gloves, high boots in patent leather and a black silk hat were furnished to wear with this habit.

Silks and Brocades.

For evening dresses come colored stripes on white moire or faille grounds. Very narrow stripes of several colors are together, as pink, mauve, pistache and yellow in one pattern, while others have stripes of a single color in satin only a quarter of an inch wide on white faille. Still others have wider white moire stripes "peppered" with tiny black dots, alternating with inch wide satin stripes of rose, green or mauve. Jeweled effects are the novelty in rich brocades. New bias striped silks have gay flowered vines on black grounds. Changeable stripes of black with gold are effective beside black satin stripes. Heavy corded bengalines come in new dark shades for day dresses, and in light tints for evening wear, says Kenneth Bruce.

Fall of the Leaf.

The bright, green foliage of summer which is now variegated with golden tints, and leafless trees will soon presage the coming of winter's chilly blasts. Nature has been more than usually lavish in her gifts and abundant crops make the heart of the husbandman glad. With the advent of fall it will be well for all to take proper safeguards against disease. A pure stimulant tones up the enfeebled system. For this purpose use Klein's world-famed "Silver Age" or "Duquesne" rye. Both are warranted absolutely pure. They sell respectively at $1.50 and $1.25 per full quart. Major Klein also sells six-year-old Guckenheimer, Gibson, Overholt, Finch and Bear Creek at $1.00 per quart, or six quarts for $5.00. Goods shipped anywhere. Send for catalogue and price-list, mentioning this paper, to Max Klein, 82 Federal Street, Allegheny City, Pa.

Drunkenness, or the Liquor Habit, Positively Cured by administering Dr. Haines' Golden Specific.

It is manufactured as a powder, which can be given in a glass of beer, a cup of coffee or tea, or in food, without the knowledge of the patient. It is absolutely harmless, and will effect a permanent and speedy cure, whether the patient is a moderate drinker or an alcoholic wreck. It has been given in thousands of cases, and in every instance a perfect cure has followed. It never Fails. The system once impregnated with the Specific, it becomes an utter impossibility for the liquor appetite to exist. Cures guaranteed. 48 page book of particulars free. MAGIC AT HOME.

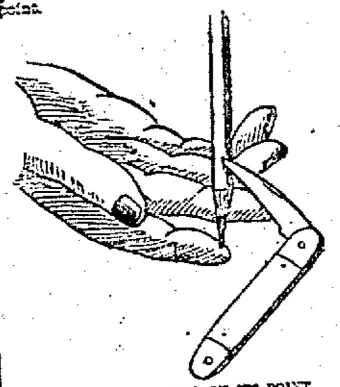
An Amusing Illustration of a Familiar Law of Mechanics.

Our illustration supplies without the need of explanation the solution of the problem, How to balance a pencil on its point.



BALANCING A PENCIL ON ITS POINT.

You have merely to dig the blade of a half open penknife into the pencil a little above the point, and to open or close the blade, little by little, till you find that the balance is obtained. The combination of pencil and penknife thus placing itself in equilibrium is an illustration of a familiar law of mechanics; the center of gravity of the combination falls below the point of support (the finger, edge of table or the like), and thus stable equilibrium is obtained.

By varying the degrees of opening the penknife, you impart corresponding degrees of inclination to the pencil. When the center of gravity of the two combined falls in the same line as the axis of the pencil, the latter will assume a perpendicular position.

The Charms of the Cicada's Song.

In Nature Notes Mr. R. T. Lewis gives a curious account of the appreciation with which the song of the cicada is heard by insects other than those of its own genus. The correspondent has frequently observed in Natal, Africa, that when the cicada is singing at its loudest in the hottest portion of the day it is attended by a number of other insects with lovely, gauzelike, iridescent wings, whose demeanor has left no doubt in his mind that the music is the attraction. The cicada, when singing, usually stations itself upon the trunk of a tree with its head uppermost, and the insects in question, to the number of sometimes fifteen or sixteen, form themselves into a rough semicircle at a short distance around its head. During a performance one of the insects was observed occasionally to approach the cicada and to touch it upon its front leg or antennæ, which proceeding was resented by a vigorous stroke of the foot by the cicada, without, however, any cessation of its song. The insects composing the audience are extremely active and so wary that they take flight at the least alarm or the too near approach of any intruder. Some of them, however, have been captured; and on examination these "proved to belong to the same family as that most beautiful of British insects, lacewing fly, which, indeed, they closely resemble except as to size, their measurement across the expanded wings being a little over two inches; they have since been identified by Mr. Kirby at the British museum as Notochrysa gigantea."

A Shark's Miscellaneous Diet.

An English exchange is authority for the following: "A large shark, 13 feet 6 inches long, was caught in the waters of Moreton bay some few weeks ago. On the animal being opened the following miscellaneous collection was said to be discovered: Twenty-one sea mullet, a native bear, an opossum, a turtle's fin, an iguana, a wallaby, a carpet snake 5 feet 8 inches in length and several minor articles of commerce."

An Extraordinary Tree.

The accompanying cut from La Nature was copied from a photograph of a beech tree standing in a wood near Metz. Popular Science News gives the following account of this tree:

The tree is several hundred years old and the contortions and irregularities of its trunk and branches are most remarkable. Occasional departures from perfect symmetry can be observed in almost every tree, and it is proverbial that a bending of the young twig leads to the inclination of the adult tree, but it would be of great interest to know the original cause of the manifold twistings and turnings of this tree, and whether they were due to an accidental bending of the young shoots or to an abnormal habit of growth.

AN OBJECT OF INTEREST TO SIGHTSEERS.

This tree, which is probably the most remarkable of its kind, is an object of interest to large numbers of sightseers, and is locally known by the inappropriate name of the Joli-Fou, or Pretty Fool.

Odds and Ends.

The Pall Mall Budget tells that the experiments with the new explosive, fortis, at Liege have been truly remarkable. The substance is considered to have a force of from 30 to 40 pounds per cent. over that possessed by any other explosive known.

Fragments of meteoric iron discovered in Arizona have been found to contain numerous small diamonds.

According to The Industrial World the metal in a five cent nickel piece is worth about half a cent, and fifteen cents will purchase copper enough to make two dollars' worth of cents.

The Real Persian Sherbet.

The real Persian sherbet seems to be simply a glass of cold water with a lump of sugar in it; but it may be flavored endlessly. Thus there are sherbets prepared with sirups of raspberry or pineapple, with lemon, orange or pomegranate juice. The water must be always cold, and, if possible, have blocks of frozen snow floating in the cup, but the mixture should never effervesce. The most expensive of all sherbets, popular only among the higher classes, is made from the distilled flowers of a particular kind of willow.

Mother Country.

The term mother country is used to signify one's native country, but the term applies especially to England, in relation to America and the colonies. The inhabitants of North America, Australia, etc., are for the most part descendants of English parents, and therefore England may be termed the mother country. The Germans call their native country fatherland.

Miles' Nerve & Liver Pills.

An important discovery. They act on the liver, stomach and bowels through the nerves. A new principle. They speedily cure biliousness, bad taste, torpid liver, piles and constipation. Splendid for men, women and children. Smallest, mildest, surest. 30 doses for 25 cents. Samples free at A. B. Armstrong's drug store.

—RHEUMATISM CURED IN A DAY.—"Mystic Cure" for Rheumatism and Neuralgia radically cures in 1 to 3 days. Its action upon the system is remarkable and mysterious. It removes at once the cause and the disease immediately disappears. The first dose greatly benefits. 75 cents. Sold by A. B. Armstrong, Druggist, Smethport.

Why does this man stare so? He is simply listening to the marvelous cures effected by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

The following case illustrates:

February 16th, 1890.

WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, Buffalo, N. Y.:

Gentlemen—A remarkable case has occurred in our territory. J. N. Berry, a man about thirty years of age, was going down rapidly. He tried physician after physician, patent medicines, home receipts—in fact, everything. He went to a noted sanitarium and returned no better. We all thought he was dying with consumption, and only a few weeks of life were left for him.

He commenced "Golden Medical Discovery," and at the same time commenced to mend. He has used about two dozen bottles, and is still using it. He has gained in weight, color and strength, and is able to do light work. It is just such a case as we should have listened to rather suspiciously, but when we see it we must believe it.

It has trebled our sales of "Golden Medical Discovery."
